

Crittenden County, Arkansas

Industrial Site Screening and Recommendations

Janus Principals completed a site evaluation study for Crittenden County, Arkansas (as administered through the Mid-South Community College in Crittenden County). As part of a large overall economic development study of the County, Janus Principals identified and evaluated numerous potential industrial sites. The study documented existing and potential sites in Crittenden County to prioritize land availability, suitability, and readiness for development. In order to continue its growth, the County needed to maintain a good supply of prepared industrial sites and business/industrial parks for new prospects as well as for the expansion needs of existing industry.
